State Senate Passes Teacher Pay Hike Bill

Only Turnbull Votes Against Measure

ANAPOLIS, March 2 (AP)—The teachers' pay raise bill glided smoothly over its first major hurdle tonight, passing the Senate with only one dissenting vote.

Sen. Turnbull (D-Baltimore County) voted against the bill. He said later he opposed the principle of the bill—not the pay increase, itself—because it was the state, not the county, that was paying the freight.

"Whenever someone other than the local government levies the taxes and pays the bills," Turnbull declared, "it means the problem is getting away from the people and they lose sight of it."

"I contend the teachers' pay increase is a county problem. I've voted that way before and I'll continue to vote that way."

The bill, raising the base salary scale for public school teachers in 1955-56 from $2,200-$3,800 to $2,800-$4,600, now goes to the House. If approved there, it is assured executive approval, for Gov. McKeldin has come out flatly for it.

"Home Rule" Bill Dead

The Senate killed a perennial move to grant more self-government to the counties. By a vote of 17-11, it approved its Judiciary Committee's unfavorable report on the county "home rule" bill.

Gov. McKeldin, himself once cool to the proposal, could not benefit unless he were re-elected.

The Senate has not yet acted on the bill originated by Del. Marshall and Lawlor R-Montgomery. Even if the senators go along, the voters would have to render a final decision at a referendum in 1954 to write the new salary into the constitution.

Governors now receive $4,500, lowest rate in the nation.

Judge Indicates Convicted Jelke May Escape Jail

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—A judge's guarded remarks today made it look as though Minot (Mickey) Jelke may escape prison as a free society procurer.

The 23-year-old oleomargarine heir faces up to 40 years when he appears for sentence March 20. However, General Sessions Judge Francis L. Valente has the option of a suspended sentence.

Refusing Jelke bail, Valente remanded today that his present stay in jail is "a very important part of his rehabilitation."

At another point, Valente said Jelke "is not the procurer in the sense we understand a procurer."

Parents Get Suggestion

Still later, the judge suggested Jelke's socialite parents come forward with a program of rehabilitation for him.

The stubby bachelor was convicted last Friday night on two counts of compulsory prostitution, involving 19-year-old Pat Ward and 23-year-old Marguerite Cordova. Jelke was acquitted on a third count after a 25-day trial.

He has been locked up since and Defense Attorney Sam Segal asked for bail with the plea that Jelke suffers from a kidney ailment.

"If he is kept in prison it will be painful to a boy who came up the way he did," Segal said.

No Doubt Concerning Guilt

Replied Valente: "I have given this application considerable thought and it's my opinion that the best interests of the defendant will be served by his remaining in custody."

"There is no doubt in my mind and I don't think there is any in yours concerning his guilt on the two counts, but I'll go along with you that he is not the procurer in the sense we understand a procurer."

Another defense attorney, Martin Benjamin, asked if Jelke's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Teal, could talk over a program of rehabilitation with the judge.

"They should come forward and show it to me," Valente replied. "This defendant is in need of some very definite guidance and rehabilitation in past actions."

Reds Lose Third Of Attack Force

SEOUL, Tuesday, March 3 (AP)—Chinese Communist forces called off an attempt to crack the main Allied line at Little Gibraltar on the rain-soaked Korean Western Front Monday after one-third of the Red attack force was killed or wounded in close-quarter battle.

The Eighth Army said the front quieted after more than 200 Chinese were mowed down by U. S. French and Thai infantrymen and British Commonwealth gunners.

The Reds partially overran one U. S. unit, division officers reported from the front. American troops drove back the Chinese in 90 minutes.

Mortars and artillery shells were rained on the attacking force Sunday night as the Reds struck with a battalion (750 men) at four points along a mile-long front.

The Eighth Army did not disclose the identity of the division fighting in the Little Gibraltar section, but French and Thai troops have fought in the U. S. 2nd Division in past actions.

Policy Of Voice Called Anti-Stalin But Pro-Marxist

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—A Voice of America official testified today the agency seemed to follow a policy of attacking Soviet Premier Stalin personally while treating Marxism, the keystone of communism, with respect.

John Cocuz, acting chief of Voice broadcasts beamed at Communist Romania, said his superiors objected to calling Marxism "poison" in a script he wrote entitled "the five evils of Marxism."

"I was told that Stalin is not a doctrinaire Marxist and that Marxism is the fig leaf of respectability under which Stalin is hiding," Cocuz said.

Criticism Written On Script

He said the criticism was written on the margin of his script but he did not know who wrote it.

Cocuz gave his testimony before a Senate investigations subcommittee, headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), as the group probed deeper into charges of sabotage in Voice programs.

The witness caused a stir at one point when he testified that Edwin Kretzmann, policy director of the Voice, told him the man in charge of the agency's religious broadcasts "does not believe in God."

In New York, Roger Lyons, director of religious programs for the Voice, promptly denounced Cocuz's statement as "absolutely false and irresponsible."

Programs Won Praise

"I do believe in God," Lyons said. He said he would never have taken the job if he did not "wholeheartedly realize the importance of emphasizing religious and moral factors" in this country's anti-Communist broadcasts.

Lyons said he had statements from the State Department's religious advisory panel, composed of top religious leaders, that Voice religious broadcasts have improved markedly in "both quantity and quality" since he took the post.

Kretzmann said in New York he had "never described Roger Lyons as an atheist."

Soldier Is Slugged; Blames Hitchhiker

FREDERICK, March 2 (AP)—A soldier from Camp Pickett, Va., found unconscious in his car at the edge of Point-of-Rocks today, told police he was slugged by a hitchhiker.

State Police Sgt. W. W. Corbin said the soldier, Pvt. Ralph Williams, had been beaten and suffered a possible skull fracture and a spinal injury which paralyzed both of his arms.

Williams' car bore Pennsylvania licenses. Police were unable to learn his hometown.

Trusties Recaptured

JESSUP, Md., March 2 (AP)—Radio-equipped state troopers easily tracked through fresh snow today to recapture three trustees who had fled the House of Correction 90 minutes earlier.

Two of the men were recaptured when they approached an unmarked police car.

Today's Chuckle

"What happened to your finger?"

"Oh, I just went across the street to pick up some cigarettes, and some clumsy fool stepped on my hand."

Sticking to his prepared text, Bradley said these are our alternatives:

"Get out of Korea—an action which I believe the American people and their allies would not condone" because, he added, it would jeopardize UN authority and give communism free rein in Asia.

Bradley cautioned that "we could have to assess the risk of each step taken," among which he included possible use of atomic weapons.

Premier Seen Gaining Whip Hand In Iran

Mobs Stone Homes, Cars Of Americans

TEHRAN, Iran, March 2 (AP)—Roaming mobs, swinging to the support of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, shouted anti-American slogans and stoned American homes and cars in Tehran today.

The aged but durable Premier seemed to be regaining the upper hand after a riotous week end precipitated by gangs of street demonstrators who rallied to the defense of young Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlevi when it appeared he was about to be forced to leave the country.

The Premier's police rounded up 70 retired and active Army officers, some of whom were accused of haranguing the mobs that shouted for the "Shah or death."

Until further developments it appeared that the week-end troubles were a standoff—the Shah's departure from the country was prevented or delayed, and Mossadegh, who at one stage was chased out of his house in his pajamas by a mob, was still Premier. But the big question still was unsettled: whether Mossadegh or the 33-year-old Shah was real master.

No Americans Injured

The whole outburst, it was believed, arose from Mossadegh's efforts to make himself complete master of Iran before letting the nation know that negotiations to settle the oil nationalization issue with Britain have failed again.

No one was injured in the anti-American mob actions. But United States Point Four offices and consular offices were closed throughout the city and embassy personnel were ordered to stay off the streets.

American houses on Roosevelt Avenue and cars driven by the embassy attache, Warren Silver, administrative counsellor Laurence C. Frank and embassy secretary Betty White were stoned.

Student Fatally Stabbed

A crowd of 8,000 Mossadegh followers clashed for the second time with Tudeh (Communist) demonstrators who attempted to join them. One student, a Mossadegh follower, was fatally stabbed in a fight.

His body was hoisted on the shoulders of the Mossadegh mob and paraded to Majlis (parliament) Square in front of the Parliament building. Police fired into the air and dispersed the crowd with tear gas when the situation there became threatening.

The dead student was the second fatality of the week end. One demonstrator was killed by police fire in front of Mossadegh's house Saturday.

Bohlen Defends FDR; Pact Probe Secrecy Rapped

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—Charles (Chip) Bohlen today defended President Roosevelt's World War II attempts to reach an understanding with the Russians, saying the map of Europe would be the same if the Republican-criticized Yalta agreements had never been made.

But Bohlen, nominated by President Eisenhower as U. S. ambassador to Russia, said he believed concessions to the Soviets in China "were unnecessary."

These points in Bohlen's testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee were disclosed in a formal statement by Chairman Wiley (R-Wis.) after the committee rejected a motion by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) to open the hearing.

Humphrey had stopped angrily out of the hearing at midday to tell reporters that the sessions should be public, declaring:

"This secrecy is merely garbling the history of the United States and the world."

Bohlen was brought into the Senate study of the circumstances surrounding the agreements made by Roosevelt at Yalta and President Truman at Potsdam because, as he said, the agreements repudiated, since this might aggravate such touchy questions as the occupation zones in Berlin and Vienna.

Young Thomas Wilson Davis pleaded guilty in police court to shooting with intent to kill, burglary and carrying a concealed weapon.

He denied shooting 12-year-old Evelyn Follin, who was wounded in the knee by a ricochet bullet while passing by.

Two other boys involved in the case, John Davis, 14, and Robert Lee Robertson, 13, faced juvenile court charges.

Four Possible Courses Of Action In Korea Outlined By Gen. Bradley

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, today outlined four courses of action the United States can take in Korea and he warned that some of them may carry the risk of all-out war with the Chinese Reds, or even starting World War III.

Bradley said he was committed neither for nor against them and added the decision is not his to make. He spoke at the Palm Beach Round Table, a cultural organization which hears experts and authorities lecture on various subjects.

Bradley said broadening of the war in this manner "might pin down the bulk of our military power on the continent of Asia, and could eventually develop into World War III."

Bradley cautioned that "we could have to assess the risk of each step taken," among which he included possible use of atomic weapons.

Bradley said his prepared text, Bradley said these are our alternatives:

"Get out of Korea—an action which I believe the American people and their allies would not condone" because, he added, it would jeopardize UN authority and give communism free rein in Asia.

Churchill Refuses To Swap Girl Guerrilla For Briton

LONDON, March 2 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill today refused the time being to accept a Communist offer to swap a Briton imprisoned in Hungary for a Red Chinese woman guerrilla sentenced to die in Malaya.

Replying to questions in the House of Commons, Churchill said "there can be no question of bartering a human life."

Hungary recently proposed trading businessman Edgar Sanders, serving a 13-year sentence on espionage charges, for Lee Meng, under sentence of death in British Malaya for being armed with a grenade.

While rejecting the offer as of now, Churchill said this does not rule out further consideration once the question of clemency appeals for Lee Meng has been decided by Malayan authorities.

Burmese Sentry Shoots Russians

RANGOON, Burma, March 2 (AP)—Two members of the Russian Embassy staff were shot and seriously wounded by a Burmese sentry early today when they entered a restricted Army area.

The incident turned a new spotlight on this Far Eastern sector where Burma is nervously trying to get along with her Red China neighbor and her Western friends. But there was official silence on all sides.

The Russians were Constantine M. Anikine, 36, embassy first secretary, and a Dr. Barbizo, 33, also attached to the embassy.

They drove in an embassy automobile into the military area on the eastern side of Rangoon well after midnight, police authorities said. The sentry three times ordered them to halt. Then he fired a burst from an automatic rifle.

Barbizo suffered wounds in his face, neck and right arm. Anikine was shot in the abdomen.

At a hospital a stocky Russian embassy official took up guard in the corridor to their special ward. He refused to let reporters speak to the wounded men and declined to answer questions himself.

At the Russian Embassy second secretary Nikolai Staskevich refused to discuss the incident. To all questions, he replied: "Ask the Burmese police and Foreign Office."

The Foreign Office and police would give no further details. No official report has yet been received from the Russians, Foreign Office attaches said.

Grammer Seeks New Trial; Publicity Cited

BALTIMORE, March 2 (AP)—An 88-page exhibit showing news coverage of the trial at which George Edward Grammer was convicted of the murder of his wife was filed by his lawyer today.

The exhibits were filed by Attorney Joseph Sherbow as part of his request for a new trial. The Supreme Bench of Baltimore will hear arguments on the request Saturday.

Sherbow became Grammer's counsel after the conviction last October.

Anthony S. Federico, the original defense lawyer, had protested holding the trial at that time. He claimed his client could not obtain a fair trial because of widespread publicity.

Grammer, a New York mining office manager, was convicted of first degree murder. His wife was found dead in her wrecked car Aug. 20.

Bandit Attempts Three Holdups In Three Hours

BALTIMORE, March 2 (AP)—Police ran in circles after a man who traded shots with a store owner, wounded another and tried to hold up a third all within three hours today.

The third attempted hold-up took place only a few doors from where police were investigating the wounding.

The same general description of a gray-coated bandit with a gun was given in all three cases. Police think he also is the same man who last Saturday pulled six holdups in a row. He was described as about 30 years old.

ANNAPOLIS, March 2 (AP)—A dissenting organization within the state's Republican Party has asked Gov. McKeldin to resign as national committeeman.

James W. Miller of the Republican Activities Committee of Maryland, in a letter to the governor, said McKeldin should quit the party post because his duties as governor, national committeeman and "your engagements as an orator inside the state and mostly outside the state" were too conflicting and arduous for one person to handle properly.

The Republican Activities Committee has opposed most of McKeldin's actions since he was elected. It supported H. Grady Gore for the GOP senatorial nomination, while McKeldin backed Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md.).

A spokesman for McKeldin said the governor had no comment on the letter.

Miller criticized McKeldin strongly for granting "an overwhelming distribution of patronage to Democrats." He said the minority appointments were far in excess of those made by the previous Democratic administration.

The letter also denounced McKeldin's appearance at a Lincoln Day banquet in Baltimore without a single Negro present.

Miller said this was "very inappropriate, inasmuch as the Negro vote represents better than 50 per cent of the registered Republican vote in Baltimore."

The committee's board chairman also accused the governor of "sabotaging" a Republican Activities Committee meeting on Washington's Birthday to announce opening of offices in Washington.

McKeldin Names Parole Board

ANNAPOLIS, March 2 (AP)—A three-man committee to advise on paroles was appointed tonight by Gov. McKeldin.

The governor said he planned to follow the advice of the committee in approving all penal releases.

Former Judge Eli Frank of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City was selected as chairman, serving with James M. Hepbron, chairman of the Baltimore Criminal Justice Commission, and the Rev. Thomas A. Whalen, assistant pastor of St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church of Baltimore and a former Army chaplain.

Since shortly after he took office, Gov. McKeldin has sought a change in the state law which invests in the governor the final power for paroles.

The Sobeloff Commission, in its study of ways of streamlining the state government, suggested to the Legislative Council a three-man board to replace the governor as final authority.

The council agreed to the three-man board as an advisory group but wrote into a bill already introduced this session that the governor still must retain the final say-so.

Burmese Sentry Shoots Russians

RANGOON, Burma, March 2 (AP)—Two members of the Russian Embassy staff were shot and seriously wounded by a Burmese sentry early today when they entered a restricted Army area.

The incident turned a new spotlight on this Far Eastern sector where Burma is nervously trying to get along with her Red China neighbor and her Western friends. But there was official silence on all sides.

The Russians were Constantin M. Anikine, 36, embassy first secretary, and a Dr. Barbizo, 33, also attached to the embassy.

They drove in an embassy automobile into the military area on the eastern side of Rangoon well after midnight, police authorities said. The sentry three times ordered them to halt. Then he fired a burst from an automatic rifle.

Barbizo suffered wounds in his face, neck and right arm. Anikine was shot in the abdomen.

At a hospital a stocky Russian embassy official took up guard in the corridor to their special ward. He refused to let reporters speak to the wounded men and declined to answer questions himself.

At the Russian Embassy second secretary Nikolai Statskevich refused to discuss the incident. To all questions, he replied: "Ask the Burmese police and Foreign Office."

The Foreign Office and police would give no further details. No official report has yet been received from the Russians, Foreign Office attaches said.

Grammer Seeks New Trial; Publicity Cited

BALTIMORE, March 2 (AP)—An 88-page exhibit showing news coverage of the trial at which George Edward Grammer was convicted of the murder of his wife was filed by his lawyer today.

The exhibits were filed by Attorney Joseph Sherbow as part of his request for a new trial. The Supreme Bench of Baltimore will hear arguments on the request Saturday.

Sherbow became Grammer's counsel after the conviction last October.

Anthony S. Federico, the original defense lawyer, had protested holding the trial at that time. He claimed his client could not obtain a fair trial because of widespread publicity.

Grammer, a New York mining office manager, was convicted of first degree murder. His wife was found dead in her wrecked car Aug. 20.

a measure which has been endorsed by most Democrats followed a similar warning from Republican Gov. McKeldin.

The governor said over the weekend he hadn't yet decided whether he would sign or veto the bill, should it pass the Legislature. But he commented he did "not consider this a good time" to start such a procedure in Maryland.

Bandit Attempts Three Holdups In Three Hours

BALTIMORE, March 2 (AP)—Police ran in circles after a man who traded shots with a store owner, wounded another and tried to hold up a third all within three hours today.

The third attempted hold-up took place only a few doors from where police were investigating the wounded.

The same general description of a gray-coated bandit with a gun was given in all three cases. Police think he also is the same man who last Saturday pulled six hold-ups in a row. He was described as about 30 years old.

City Firemen See Demonstration Of New Pneolator

City firemen yesterday saw demonstrations of the use of the city's new pneolator in unusual cases.

The device, which the city recently bought for use by the police and fire departments, was demonstrated by John H. Hast, formerly of Cumberland, a Washington sales engineer for the Mine Safety Application Company, which manufactures the pneolator.

Hast demonstrated the machine at Central Fire Station yesterday afternoon, then repeated the explanation last night for the benefit of Central firemen and off-duty men from other stations.

The pneolator is used to revive persons who have been overcome by smoke, gas or fumes, or who have been rescued from drowning.

AMCELLE GETS SAFETY AWARD — The Amcelle plant and its employees have won the National Safety Council's "Award of Merit" in recognition of operating more than 1,000,000 man-hours without a disabling injury. Shown above left to right are Magnus W. Work, safety engineer, C. F. Wister, carpenter and Robert W. Brown, superintendent of personnel, as the plaque is being hung in the Safety Conference Room. The award is a tribute to all employees and has been made possible only through their cooperative efforts in recognizing and practicing safe work habits.

Amcelle Awarded Plaque By National Safety Council

The National Safety Council's "Award of Merit" has been received by the Amcelle plant and its employees in recognition of operating more than 1,000,000 man-hours without a disabling injury.

The period covered was October 25 to December 12 of last year. In announcing the award of merit, Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council said, "Congratulations . . . the heartiest and very special congratulations of the directors and staff of the National Safety Council on your fine safety performance . . . truly a job well done."

In 1951 Amcelle received recognition for having improved its safety record over the previous year. In prior years individual departments, such as Textile, attained a record of exceeding a million man-hours of operation without a disabling injury. But this is the first time that Amcelle as a plant has won this distinguished "Award of Merit".

The award is a tribute to all employees and has been made possible only through their cooperative efforts in recognizing and practicing safe work habits.

The plaque has been hung in the Safety Conference Room of the Amcelle plant.

JAMES ORR ALSO WILL SHOW COLORED MOTION PICTURES OF THE PRESIDENTIAL INAUGURATION.

Potomac Edison Sued For Bedford St. Fire

The Potomac Edison Company was named defendant in a $500 suit in Allegany County Circuit Court which attributed a Bedford Street fire to careless installation of a 220-volt electric cable.

Stella Catherine Zimmerman, individually and as next friend of Winfield Scott Zimmerman, a minor; Harvey Linn and Catherine Zimmerman Linn, his wife, 353 Bedford Street, filed the suit through Attorney James Alfred Avirett.

They said that the fire, which occurred January 30, 1952, destroyed and damaged clothing and other personal effects. The fire was attributed to a short circuit.

In another $500 suit Eugene Dalton Loy, RFD 1, Frostburg, seeks that amount from Harmon J. Broadwater, Westernport, for damages to his car in a collision last August 27 on Vale Summit Road, about one mile south of Clarysville. Attorney W. Earle Cobey filed the suit.

Divorces Granted

Two divorces have been granted in Allegany County Circuit Court this week. Virginia L. Thomas has obtained a divorce from Edward L. Thomas, Jr. and has been awarded custody of their minor child. Betty Whitten has been granted a divorce from Jimmy Junior Whitten and has been given custody of infant children.

Burglary Trial Scheduled Tuesday

Two young men who have been held in the County Jail since early in February, are now scheduled for trial in Allegany County Circuit Court at 9:15 a. m. today on five charges of statutory burglary.

They are James Irvin Cranford, 29, Maryland Avenue and Marlowe, W. Va., and Francis George Humbertson, 27, Baker Street, and Washington, D. C. They have filed petitions for immediate trial and have waived indictment by the grand jury. State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher has filed five criminal informations charging them with theft of over $1,000 in burglaries of business establishments and offices in Cumberland February 1 and 2.

Originally, they were to have been tried Thursday but Fletcher was called out of town.

Two Area Men Join Armed Forces Here

Two area men joined the armed forces last week according to M/Sgt. Ralph W. Stewart, recruiter here.

They are Gerald L. Francis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Francis, 83 Main Street, Westernport, a graduate of LaSalle High School, who enlisted in the Air Force for four years; and Harry Houser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Houser, Pearl Street, Piedmont, who joined the Army for three years.

Francis was sent to Sampson Air Base, Geneva, N. Y. for basic training, and Houser was dispatched to Fort George G. Meade.

Marland Gas Tax

The auditor would be employed by the Legislature's Joint Committee on Government and Finance, and his salary would be fixed by that group.

Park Bond Bill Okayed

The House passed 90-1 and sent to the Senate an administration bill embodying Gov. Marland's recommendation that state parks be authorized to issue revenue bonds for construction of cabins and other facilities.

Only Del. Goshorn (D-Kanawha) voted against the measure.

Also passed by the House and sent to the Senate were bills to:

Authorize West Virginia University and state colleges to apply surplus fees not needed for bonded indebtedness of the dormitories from which the fees were collected, to the sinking fund for other dormitory bonds.

Change College Name

Change the name of Potomac State School of West Virginia University to Potomac State College of West Virginia University.

Reduce from 72 to 60 the maximum number of hours city firemen may be required to remain on duty in one week. An exception would be made in the case of a fire requiring the service of more than half of the department.

To increase from $50,000 to $60,000 the dividing line between primary rates and excess value rates in payment of inheritance taxes, and to apply the minimum rate of three per cent to all charitable institutions.

UP GOES THE POWER OF EVERY BUICK-Special and Super and Roadmaster!

IT'S more than pride that makes a man want a lot of horsepower beneath the hood of the car he owns.

For the real point in reaching record horsepower and compression ratios goes beyond miles per hour. It steps up performance and economy in normal driving.

That's what Buick engineers did when they upped the power and compression of each 1953 Buick — SPECIAL, SUPER and ROADMASTER — to the highest figures in Buick's fifty-year history.

In the SUPER and ROADMASTER, they put a new kind of V8 Engine — first passenger-car V8 with 8.5 to 1 compression, and a long list of other major engineering advances.

For the SPECIAL, they redesigned the famed F-263 Fireball 8 Engine — gave it shorter flame travel, faster firing, higher horsepower and compression.

And to these spirited engines they coupled the new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive* that adds flash-fast, quiet getaway to utter smoothness.

Just to give you an example of what all this means: The 1953 Buick SPECIAL with Dynaflow can beat the mighty 1952 ROADMASTER on getaway — can reach 30 mph (when the law allows) with a combined speed and jerk-free smoothness no other car can equal.

Of course, there's far more to these new Buicks for 1953 — some seven dozen new features alone.

But why not come in and see for yourself that these are the greatest Buicks—and the greatest values—in fifty great years.

Civilian Emergency Care

Hysteria has no more place than complacency in the conduct of foreign affairs, and there is little reason for either in the attitude of the U. S. toward the progress communism has been making in Guatemala. The situation is growing serious.

Guatemala has fewer than 1,200 card-carrying Communists in a nation of 2,750,000, but they have the most effective Red organization in this hemisphere. They occupy important posts and wield great influence in the regime of President Arbenz Guzman, who appears to be complacently naive.

But there are two facts which it is essential to keep in mind here. One concerns the invariable aspects of Moscow-linked communism. The other involves how Latin Americans are likely to feel about the United States.

The essence of communism in practice is its continuous drive for absolute power. This drive is made by its cadres, small in number and intensely disciplined. They can succeed only by controlling the masses without letting them know (until it is too late) that they are being used. Reds therefore join the largest and most effective reform organizations, worm their way into leadership, and direct their activities. As leaders of these organizations they seek to influence government officials and eventually to occupy government posts, hiding their real power-seeking aims.

This process is well under way in Guatemala. Labor organizations are largely under Communist control. Communists are the loudest supporters and the most active workers for the reforms sought in the revolution of 1944. President Arbenz Guzman welcomes their support. They are posing as agrarian reformers and friends of the laboring man, and they are fooling people.

American diplomacy is and should be concerned with keeping them from seizing power. But if Washington were to pressure the Guatemala government to take action against the Red menace, the Communists might rally enough support to seize power. The situation must be handled as the difficult and delicate problem it is.

So Here's March

February has its groundhog legend and March has one great deal like it. Only the character playing the role of weather forecaster in March is lion, as befits a month so named. "If March comes in like a lion, it will go out like a lamb," a hoary saying goes. Perhaps this is so. Most persons have trouble remembering, at the end of the month, just how it did begin. March has 31 days and seems even longer because it comes after February.

Anyway, here it is—and welcome. March is the month that started off the new year, the way the Romans had things arranged, and the English didn't give that honor to January until the middle of the 18th Century.

There is more mythology connected with March than its name, which is connected with that of the god of war. It is said that the last three days of the month are "borrowed" from April and that the first three are "blind" because they are unlucky. Superstitious farmers formerly refrained from planting crops on the first three days because of this superstition, and it could be that some still do.

St. Patrick's Day comes on the 17th, as every son of the Old Sod knows, and that's the one anniversary that gets much attention this month. March 4 was quite a day, every four years, before inauguration of Presidents was switched to January 20. Otherwise March is a long stretch of days much like each other, not counting March 15, income tax day, which is in a class by itself.

But the vernal equinox comes in March followed by spring, and that is what makes the month outstanding.

Operation Economy

In persuading 75 business and industrial leaders to engage in a first-hand and continuing study of the federal budget, the Eisenhower administration promises to make its "Operation Economy" something more than a catchword. These men, divided into 12 task forces, will live in Washington, attend committee hearings, and learn about government processes—to the end that they may make recommendations for cutting federal expenditures and thus pave the way for the tax reduction all citizens yearn for.

Announcing this project, Chairman Taber of the House Appropriations Committee declares the purpose is "to squeeze every drop of water out of the budget." The outsiders whose services the committee has enlisted are well qualified to be of help.

As executives of important businesses they are called on to solve the same problems that face the government. Day in and day out they must be on the alert to eliminate waste, extravagance and duplication of effort. That's the only way their industries can survive in a fiercely competitive economy.

The fact that they are willing to devote weeks and months of their time to this enterprise opens up an encouraging prospect. Business has a stake in federal economy and tax reduction, but the real gainers from the attainment of these objectives will be ordinary citizens upon whom the present high cost of government is equally burdensome.

Auto Hall Of Fame

Names of 10 great auto racers of the early days of the horseless carriages have been honored in a newly organized auto racing hall of fame, located at the Edison Institute in Greenfield Village, Mich., and three of the 10 are still alive. Those still living are T. E. (Pop) Meyers, Bert Dingley and Ray Harroun.

Others among the 10 whose exploits in popularizing a new mode of transportation are now publicly recognized are Barney Oldfield, Louis Chevrolet, Henry Ford, Carl Fisher, William K. Vanderbilt, Harvey Firestone, Sr., and Fred Wagner.

Few of the present generation think of Ford as an automobile racing driver, but he burned up dirt tracks and set records in some of his own creations 50 years ago. In fact, he set the first recognized speed record for one mile in 1904. Harroun was the first driver to win the Indianapolis race.

The Racing Hall of Fame, now that it has been auspiciously launched, will be greatly expanded. First candidates were limited to racing greats whose careers dated prior to 1911. Next year the panel of selectors—which includes representatives of the auto industry, the press and auto racing—will pick racing immortals from the 1911-20 decade.

President Is Enthusiastic White House Guide; New Housing Agency Appointee
Stirs Debate; Sen. Alex Smith Has Embarrassing Moment

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower not only is proud of his new home, but has spent hours studying White House history. Already he knows more about the subject than the guides who've been on duty there for years.

Last week Ike displayed his newly acquired knowledge as he conducted lunching congressmen on a tour. As the group entered each room, he gave a brief historical outline of the important events that had taken place within its four walls.

"Mr. President," said one guest, "you've learned a great deal about the White House in a very short time."

"It's been a lot of fun," replied the new President. "Besides," he added, "it's good job insurance. If I'm unemployed four years from now I can always get a good job as a White House guide. I figure I'll be worth at least $1.25 an hour."

Battle Over Ike Appointment

With big city slums one of the chief contributors to juvenile delinquency, the question of slum clearance and public housing is getting hot on Capitol Hill again.

Bob Taft, Mr. Big of Senate Republicans, has estimated that public housing should comprise 10 per cent of all new housing construction each year, in order to keep abreast of the slum problem.

On this basis, a minimum of 100,000 low-rent, public housing units should be built this year. Yet

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

since the election and, if Adlai Stevenson reads it carefully, he will find out more about how to rebuild his party than by repeating the radical line that dominated the type of campaign he made.

The Georgia senator accused the radicals and such organizations as "Americans for Democratic Action" of driving millions of Democrats out of the party. He aimed his guns at their radical philosophy as he said:

"If we permit the Democratic party to become the labor party, we cannot win."

"We must make sure that it (our basic philosophy of taxation) is applied to meeting the necessities of raising revenue and not as a means of penalizing success."

"The Democratic party must turn a deaf ear to those who, in whatever guise, threaten the right of private property."

"There are those who would have us to drink of the fatal potion of national state socialism. We must resolutely reject their enticements."

Truman Mistakes Unrecognized

It is the Georgia senator who "talks sense" and realistic policies. Adlai Stevenson is still suffering from the delusion that humorous phrases and eloquent sentences constitute by themselves a fundamental political philosophy.

He never has recognized fully the plain dishonesty of the Truman regime, its distortion of truth about domestic policies, its wasteful spending, and its brazen attempts at appeasement which condemned 350,000 Americans to perennial war in Korea. This can never be excused on the ground that it has averted a "third world war" because, as the Munich experience of 1938 showed so tragically only one year later, aggressors were thereby encouraged to mistake irresolution for timidity.

Some day the former governor of Illinois will learn that 20,000 dead, 10,000 missing and nearly 100,000 wounded in Korea, while so-called allies sell goods to the enemy, was bound to become a political issue in America. The Eisenhower administration, too, will be plagued by the same issue if it temporizes with the situation in Korea. Whatever cuts through the entire nation as did the Korean War and the draft is certain to cause the administration in power to be held accountable. For if an administration were to go soft on the Communists conspiracy inside our government.

The former Illinois governor has not yet discovered that the Presidential election of 1952 was won before either he or General Eisenhower was nominated — when 68 per cent of the voters, according to a University of Michigan research, had made up their minds and a majority had decided to vote against the Truman administration.

Yes, and Raynaud's disease is the most typical example. The walls of the arteries are made up of muscles that narrow the opening on contracting and widen it when they relax or dilate. Blood vessel spasm occurs in Raynaud's syndrome on exposure to cold or when emotionally disturbed. When this takes place the skin becomes numb and cold.

Civilian Emergency Care

Last November a serious traffic accident occurred in Brooklyn and one of the victims suffered several broken bones and lacerations and was bleeding profusely. Two physicians stopped their automobiles and applied tourniquets to control hemorrhage and to give morphine to ease the pain while waiting for the ambulance. A third physician also happened upon the scene and, like the others, stopped to see if he could help. By this time the injured man was in shock. The third physician was carrying in his car two units of PVP (polyvinylpyrrolidone, a transfusion substitute), which he administered immediately into a vein. This infusion probably saved the victim's life because another half hour elapsed before the ambulance arrived.

The incident may have escaped notice because accidents are so common. But it represented something new. PVP is a chemical plasma substitute and the injured man received the equivalent of a transfusion. It reminds us of the care given our service men on the battlefield. Most of us recall the picture of the wounded soldier lying on the ground receiving blood plasma from a bottle suspended from the butt of a rifle. The modern rendition on a civilian level is a step forward in emergency medical care.

It is impractical for physicians to carry around blood or plasma and the Brooklyn man was fortunate that the one medico in 5,000 with PVP in his car should have happened by at that particular time. The substance works so well the editors of New York Medicine, who told the story, suggested that each patrol car carry a kit containing a blood substitute such as PVP so that it would be readily available to the physician at the scene of an accident. Certain police officers might be trained to administer the necessary first aid with a plasma substitute. This is a better plan than to rely upon physicians' carrying the kits because the transfusion material would always be fresh and available for emergencies.

Transfusions are lifesaving procedures, especially in combating shock, hemorrhage, and crushing injuries. Chemical substitutes are not entirely ideal because blood has several functions, some of which are difficult to reproduce.

The red corpuscles, for example, transport oxygen to the tissues and their supply is imperiled whenever there is massive hemorrhage.

Blood pressure and circulation are dependent upon proteins in the plasma, which also contains elements essential for clotting.

Plasma proteins have nutritional value and serum teams with the protective anti-bodies so necessary in the prevention and control of infection.

Plasma serum offers almost everything except red blood cells and is preferred in the treatment of shock when there is minimal blood loss.

It contains enough protein to sustain blood pressure and is rich in antibodies, nutrients, and coagulating elements.

However, these factors are not always needed and it is here that a chemical serum substitute is useful.

These products will help in part to relieve the shortage of blood. Furthermore, their use will not interfere with the American Red Cross blood collection program.

This organization is trying desperately to fill its quota and, with the increasing need for gamma-globulin in polio, much more blood must be collected.

President Is Enthusiastic White House Guide; New Housing Agency Appointee
Stirs Debate; Sen. Alex Smith Has Embarrassing Moment

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower is proud of his new job insurance. If I'm unemployed four years from now I can always get a good job as a White House guide. I figure I'll be worth at least $1.25 an hour."

Battle Over Ike Appointment

With big city slums one of the chief contributors to juvenile delinquency, the question of slum clearance and public housing is getting hot on Capitol Hill again.

Bob Taft, Mr. Big of Senate Republicans, has estimated that public housing should comprise 10 per cent of all new housing construction each year, in order to keep abreast of the slum problem.

On this basis, a minimum of 100,000 low-rent, public housing units should be built this year. Yet added, "it's good job insurance. If I'm unemployed four years from now I can always get a good job as a White House guide. I figure I'll be worth at least $1.25 an hour."

Congress Has Provided Funds for Only One-Third This Amount—35,000 Units

What's really stirred up backstage debate, however, is the appointment of ex-Congressman Al Cole of Kansas as boss of the Housing and home Finance agency.

Cole is the only Republican congressman defeated in the rock-ribbed Republican state of Kansas in many years, and he was defeated in an election which went overwhelmingly for Eisenhower.

While in Congress, Cole was such a bitter foe of public housing and such a friend of the real estate lobby, that even such Eisenhower senators as New York's Irving Ives will probably vote against his confirmation.

In June 1949, Cole delivered a blistering speech against the Taft Housing Act, which launched the same program of slum clearance and public housing which Cole is now supposed to administer.

That bill, he declared, "tends to destroy private homes and private business."

"It tends to destroy our form of government."

"It's a step toward government control of individual family life."

"May become so strong as to strangle the people of America...."

Today the Soviet government has in its constitution, Article 6, a provision that the homes of the laboring people shall belong to the state."

Senator Taft, however, who authored the Taft Housing Act, seemed to think that crowded, unhealthy big city slums are even worse breeders of communism than the Communist political platform.

NOTE — While the battle over Housing Administrator Cole gets hotter in Washington, another political public housing battle rages in Los Angeles — to defeat Mayor Fletcher Bowron, long-time champion of slum clearance and public housing which Cole is now supposed to administer as he said:

"If we permit the Democratic party to become the labor party, we cannot win."

"We must make sure that it (our basic philosophy of taxation) is applied to meeting the necessities of raising revenue and not as a means of penalizing success."

"The Democratic party must turn a deaf ear to those who, in whatever guise, threaten the right of private property."

"There are those who would have us to drink of the fatal potion of national state socialism. We must resolutely reject their enticements."

Truman Mistakes Unrecognized

It is the Georgia senator who "talks sense" and realistic politics. Adlai Stevenson is still suffering from the delusion that humorous phrases and eloquent sentences constitute by themselves a fundamental political philosophy. He never has recognized fully the plain dishonesties of the Truman regime, its distortion of truth about domestic policies, its wasteful spending, and its brazen attempt at appeasement which condemned 350,000 Americans to perennial war in Korea. This can never be excused on the ground that it has availed a "third world war" because, as the Munich experience of 1938 showed so tragically only one year later, aggressors were thereby encouraged to make irresolution for timidity.

Some day the former governor of Illinois will learn that 20,000 dead, 10,000 missing and nearly 100,000 wounded in Korea, while so-called allies sell goods to the enemy, was bound to become a political issue in America. The Eisenhower administration, too, will be plagued by the same issue if it temporizes with the situation in Korea. Whatever cuts through the entire nation as did the Korean War and the draft is certain to cause the administration in power to be held accountable. For if an administration were to go scot-free of punishment at the polls merely by nominating a new face, a man of wit and cleverness and respectability with "good intentions," responsible government would vanish.

His speech is the frankest piece of criticism that has come out of the administration since the Truman administration.

Later, as Eisenhower took the senators on the usual tour of the White House and pointed out a full-length painting of George Washington, he called attention to a large book, labeled "The Law," at Washington's feet. "In view of your trouble with congressmen who want to rewrite the law," broke in West Virginia's Sen. Matt Neely, "if you ever have a similar picture painted, I suppose it will be more like Dore's painting of a wrathful Moses breaking the Tablets of the Law."

Cumberland's Tri-State Roofing basketball team suffered a 137-41 defeat at the hands of St. Benedict's quint Saturday night in Baltimore and was forced to finish the game with only three players on the court.

Giovanni Wins

BROOKLYN, March 2 (UPI) — Danny Giovanni of Brooklyn pummeled previously unbeaten Danny Joe Perez of New York into bleeding submission tonight to score a technical knockout at the end of the sixth round of a scheduled 10-round fight at the Eastern Parkway Arena.

Giovanni was leading 5-1 on all three scorecards when the bout was stopped.

Training Camp Closeups

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., March 2 (UPI) — The track started a scheduled 25-day meeting Saturday with a healthy handle of $574,022 at the minor oval. It was the first racing of the year in the East.

The snowfall was only an inch or two, but the second card of eight races was postponed due to hazardous driving conditions on roads leading to the track.

Officials expressed confidence the racing strip was not seriously affected by the downfall. They plan to run the same card tomorrow.

The track in the Eastern panhandle of West Virginia draws patrons from Washington, Maryland and Virginia in addition to its home state.

Roofers Finish With Three Men And Lose, 137-41

Cumberland's Tri-State Roofing basketball team suffered a 137-41 defeat at the hands of St. Benedict's quint Saturday night in Baltimore and was forced to finish the game with only three players on the court.

The Roofers were trailing 43-32 at halftime and after the third period got under way Jones was ejected on five personal fouls. Frank Weatherholt, Roofers' guard, argued that six personals should have been allowed each player and he was promptly given the heave-ho by the referee. Since the local quint took only five players to Baltimore and two were banished they were forced to finish the game with three men. The Roofers were outscored 94 to 9 in the second half. Lineups:

Before you shop, take note of these fashion details that make slim silhouettes wearable and becoming!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

There are three significant silhouettes this spring. Whether the one you choose is as slim as a Roman column, gentle as a princess, or serpentine, it will register you in the top fashion bracket — that is, if it becomes your figure.

All, of course, have the slender effect that fashion has decreed, but each is slightly different in line and it's important to know which aligns best with your figure. The sheath-slim line requires a nearly perfect proportioned figure; the princess and "profile" cuts best cover a multitude of sins; and the fitted torso and middy designs curve exactly where and as do a little or a lot.

Flattering Details

To step up the appeal of the slender styles as well as to make them more becoming for more figures, designers have subtly widened the top of the silhouette. This breadth is not achieved through the actual widening or padding of the shoulder but by tucking, seaming, yokes, double-breasted effects, stoles and sleeve and neckline interest.

A shell coat, for example, gains shoulder width by the addition of a large portrait collar. A sheath dress achieves it by tapering from a wide bateau neckline, slashed to the shoulder tips. Such treatment immediately flatters your figure with hip and waist-slimming effect.

Other designing devices that increase the wearability of the narrow silhouette art bloused, butterly or floating backs and sudden bursts of fullness in the skirt. Seek them out for your wardrobe — they're flatters all!

Feminine Simplicity

With the slim look, fashion couples a 20th Century kind of feminine simplicity — soft-spoken in design, understated in trimming and subtle in color. Your waist is your own although it may sometimes appear attenuated through contour belting or stitching and your hips are your own except in rare instances where ledges of pleats conceal them or concealed stiffening restates them. Jacket lengths are a suit-yourself-and-your-figure affair. Skirt lengths fall about one inch longer and the better to suit your leg.

However you drink your fashion tea, hold the sugar. Keep to simple, uncluttered choices. For a svelte, chic-look, make this your fashion rule of thumb: Dress not to the teeth and you will be dressed to the taste.

Before you shop, take note of these fashion details that make slim silhouettes wearable and becoming!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

There are three significant silhouettes this spring. Whether the one you choose is as slim as a Roman column, gentle as a princess, or serpentine, it will register you in the top fashion bracket — that is, if it becomes your figure.

AM, of course, have the slender effect that fashion has decreed, but each is slightly different in line and it's important to know which aligns best with your figure. The sheath-slim line requires a nearly perfect proportioned figure; the princess and "profile" cuts best cover a multitude of sins; and the fitted torso and middy designs curve exactly where and as you do — a little or a lot.

Flattering Details

To step up the appeal of the slender styles as well as to make them more becoming for more figures, designers have subtly widened the top of the silhouette. This breadth is not achieved through the actual widening or padding of the shoulder but by tucking, seaming, yokes, double-breasted effects, stoles and sleeve and neckline interest.

A shell coat, for example, gains shoulder width by the addition of a large portrait collar. A sheath dress achieves it by tapering from a wide bateau neckline, slashed to the shoulder tips. Such treatment immediately flatters your figure with hip and waist-slimming effect.

Other designing devices that increase the wearability of the narrow silhouette art bloused, butterly or floating backs and sudden bursts of fullness in the skirt. Sketch them out for your wardrobe — they're flatters all!

Feminine Simplicity

With the slim look, fashion copies a 20th Century kind of femininity — soft-spoken in design, understated in trimming and subtle in color. Your waist is your own although it may sometimes appear attenuated through contour belting or stitching and your hips are your own except in rare instances where ledges of pleats conceal them or concealed stiffening restates them. Jacket lengths are a suit-yourself-and-your-figure affair. Skirt lengths fall about one inch longer and the better to suit your leg.

However you drink your fashion tea, hold the sugar. Keep it simple, uncluttered choices. For a subtle, chic-look, make this your fashion rule of thumb: Dress not to the teeth and you will be dressed to the taste.

TIPS TO A SUCCESSFUL CAREER

A worthwhile investment in charm for every girl starting a business career is to learn how to sell. Anybody who is eager to reach top-flight success. It tells you how to make that important "good impression" to get your job — never second-guess on how to hold your job. So how easy it is to change a suitable wardrobe. Save time and uncertainty needless worry through these short-cut steps in charm that lead to YOUR SUCCESS. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of Wrigley's Spearmint Gum, Dept. 100, plus stamped, self-addressed return envelope, for a copy of the booklet, YOUR STEPS TO A SUCCESSFUL CAREER.

Meeting Planned On Gas Bills

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan yesterday informed the Mayor and Council he has obtained a conference with the Maryland Public Service Commission in regard to bills received in February by natural gas consumers here.

Finan said many citizens have been making complaints about the increase in their bills covering January consumption.

The city attorney stated the conference is tentatively set for tomorrow at 10 a.m. in Baltimore with Joseph Allen, PSC Peoples counsel; Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, and counsel for the C&O Gas Company.

Mayor Roy W. Eves noted that his office has been receiving a number of calls of protest over the January bills.

Most people, the Mayor said, are of the opinion that the increase went into effect for consumption after February 1. However, meters read out would would include consumption for January under PSC ruling.

Mrs. Thomas M. Keech, 310 Deader Street, in a letter read at the council meeting, protested her January bill.

The city attorney stated the meter was not new and was not read out until the 27th day of August, 1953.

The bill was taken to Annapolis last night by Officer Joseph H. Stitzer, of the Police and Fire Legislative Committee, following an all-day conference at City Hall between the Mayor and Council, the Civil Service Commission and representatives of the two city groups.

During the lengthy conference, a number of revisions were made in the bill which was suggested by the Police and Firemen and the Municipal Workers.

Officer Stitzer, with Assistant Fire Chief Robert V. Long, Capt. Vincent H. Wegman, of the Fire Department, and Calvin Shipes, president of Local 812, will present the employees' bill to the full delegation at 10 a.m.

During yesterday's joint session, Mayor Eves pointed out that the bill which is being taken to Annapolis by the employees will not be acted upon immediately, but is being submitted so it can be gotten into print.

He said he was assured that copies of any Civil Service bill will be sent to interested parties so they can be studied prior to any hearing called by the delegation.

Lab Controls Slated At City Water Plant

Technician Position Will Be Established

William J. Edwards, commissioner of water and electric light, announced plans yesterday for employing a bacteriologist on a permanent basis for laboratory controls of the city's water supply.

He said he will ask the Mayor and Council to approve plans for placing the position of bacteriologist at the Lake Gordon filtration plant under civil service.

Since last September, Miss Shirley Mortzfeldt has held the post of laboratory technician on a temporary basis.

Penna. Asks Lab

The establishment of a laboratory which could make daily bacteriological examinations of water, both before and after filtration, was one of the requirements made by the Pennsylvania Department of Health when it gave permission for the $237,000 improvement program at the Lake Gordon filter plant, Edwards said.

Edwards said George L. Hall, of the Maryland Department of Health recently "concurred wholeheartedly" with the establishment of the laboratory.

The value of frequent laboratory examinations is apparent, Hall explained, since they establish the purity and the palatability of the water.

Will Ask Controls

A water treatment serving the population of Cumberland, Hall added, should have plant control based on an adequate laboratory examinations. The size of the plant, he said, makes it almost impossible for the superintendent to do the work without neglecting other duties.

Laboratory controls, Hall pointed out, will be required by both Maryland and Pennsylvania before the city begins adding fluorides to the water to control dental caries.

The establishment of the control laboratory at Lake Gordon will give the city double protection, since the State of Maryland is expected to continue its program of testing water samples taken from city taps.
